Financial Times Book of the Year. An urgent new novel about death, war and memory from the highly acclaimed Croatian writer. In this breathtaking final work, Dasa Drndic reaches new heights. Andreas Ban's suicide attempt has failed though very ill, he still finds the will to tap on the glass of history to summon those imprisoned within. Mercilessly he dissects society and his environment, shunning all favors as he goes after the evils and hidden secrets of our times. History remembers the names of the perpetrators, not the victims. Ban remembers and honors the lost. He travels from Rijeka to Zagreb, from Belgrade to Tirana, from Parisian avenues to Italian castles. Ghosts follow him wherever he goes: chess grandmasters who disappeared during WWII, the lost inhabitants of Latvia, war criminals who found work in the CIA and died peacefully in their beds. Ban's family is with him too: those already dead and those with one foot in the grave as if left with only a few pieces in a chess game. Andreas Ban and Dasa Drndic play a stunning last match against death.
