examines the pastoral and theological implications of north american small christian community programs

how can we transmit a living personal catholic faith to future generations by coming to know jesus christ and following him as his disciples these are times of immense challenge and immense opportunity for the catholic church consider these statistics for the united states only 30 percent of americans who were raised catholic are still practicing fully 10 percent of all adults in america are ex catholics the number of marriages celebrated in the church decreased dramatically by nearly 60 percent between 1972 and 2010 only 60 percent of catholics believe in a personal god if the church is to reverse these trends the evangelizers must first be evangelized in other words catholics in the pew must make a conscious choice to know and follow jesus before they can draw others to him this work of discipleship lies at the heart of forming intentional disciples a book designed to help church leaders parish staff and all catholics transform parish life from within drawing upon her fifteen years of experience with the catherine of siena institute sherry weddell leads readers through steps that will help catholics enter more deeply into a relationship with god and the river of apostolic creativity charisms and vocation that flow from that relationship for the sake of the church and the world learn about the five thresholds of postmodern conversion how to open a conversation about faith and belief how to ask thought provoking questions and establish an atmosphere of trust when to tell the great story of jesus how to help someone respond to god s call to intentional discipleship and much more and be prepared for conversion because when life at the parish level changes the life of the whole church will change the internationally growing cursillo movement or short course in christianity founded in 1944 by spanish catholic lay practitioners has become popular among american catholics and protestants alike this lay led weekend experience helps participants recommit to and live their faith emphasizing how american christians have privileged the individual religious experience and downplayed denominational and theological differences in favor of a common identity as renewed people of faith kristy nabhan warren focuses on cursillistas those who have completed a cursillo weekend to show how their experiences are a touchstone for understanding these trends in post 1960s american christianity drawing on extensive ethnographic fieldwork as well as historical research nabhan warren shows the importance of latino catholics in the spread of the cursillo movement cursillistas stories she argues guide us toward a new understanding of contemporary christian identities inside and outside u s borders and of the importance of globalizing american religious boundaries

in this in depth study of eight diverse mainline protestant congregations anthropologist fredric roberts finds that when local congregations are evaluated by spiritual and religious standards instead of corporate or pop culture based values there remains much to celebrate roberts recommends that congregations work to discover their own uniqueness and to build upon the strength that already exist among its own members be not afraid is a guide to help congregations rediscover their true calling to be nurturing faith communities committed to spreading the good news and making disciples life is fragile handle with prayer whether we realize it or not our every day lives are filled with prayerful moments for some this is a conscious effort but too often prayer is a one sided monologue at god when we don t give god the opportunity to speak to us then our friendship with christ suffers so ask yourself if i am not listening to god to whom am i listening prayer is about building and deepening our relationship with christ as we nurture this friendship we find that prayer is also about being changed from within which allows us to grow closer to jesus prayer is a relationship is a workbook that allows you to explore different ways of praying using the giving your prayer wings exercises how is your prayer life is it all you want or hope it can be christ is calling are you listening the calling to parish ministry involves a journey leading through lowland thickets and high plateau vistas it s a vocation not for weak spirits the parish presents general challenges rather than specialist endeavors so wearing one hat after another the pastor may speak from the pulpit join a team processing a current social concern visit the intensive care hospital unit and offer counsel at birth marriage or death maybe all in one day clergy and non ordained alike will find that parish the thought provides a closeup insight into this ministry telling the truth about the defeats and victories experienced over the course of forty years in the parish this memoir spends little time in navel gazing rather the author explores the humor conflicts ventures and achievements that rise in his memory the reader will detect a commitment to priestly and prophetic ministry one that seeks to comfort the distressed and to nudge the comfortable out of apathy encompassing the personal and public dimensions of the faith all this as an adventure following the pioneer jesus the christ priestly ministry in the church of england needs a radical rethink george herbert died in 1633 his legacy continues his poems are read and sung and his parish ministry remains the model for the church of england s understanding of how and where and why its priests should minister but there is a problem the memory of herbert celebrated by the church is an inaccurate one and in its inaccuracy is unfair on herbert himself and his successors in the ordained ministry this is a book of the long view it sets out to assess realistically the context of herbert s life and to explore the difficulties of parish life today by examining the status and role of parish clergy since herbert s time and today it draws on the work of historians social anthropologists psychologists and theologians and presents their ideas in a readable and passionate style it argues that the future strength of parochial ministry will be found in a recovery of historic renewed understandings of priestly ministry and concludes by outlining more sustainable patterns of practice for the future in a climate of uncertainty for the future of the church it will be an encouragement for priest and people and welcomed by both bob edwards was a man of deep faith and many talents he was a true disciple of jesus christ he also had a remarkable ability to tell a captivating story about the important chapters in his life beginning with his days as a young man falling in love he writes a disciple s tale with passion wit and an uplifting spirit as he shares the most important moments and passages of a life well lived anything but a yawn inducing diary of predictable events bob infuses his memoir with drama and suspense and he offers us a lot of food for thought about discipleship and ministry bob edwards masterfully wrote this autobiography in addition to being an accomplished author he was a fulbright scholar u s intelligence agent in germany recipient of three university degrees college professor philosopher historian political scientist member of various professional societies loyal friend connoisseur and raconteur in his own words he was an impresario for the lord he served the cleveland diocese for 25 years the last 14 at the st joseph christian life center in cleveland ohio where he designed many catholic retreat and renewal programs directed with his wife jutta over 75 marriage programs and led over 125 charismatic retreats he also authored and co developed christ renews his parish crhp now known as welcome a widely acclaimed program implemented in over 1 200 catholic parishes throughout north america the pulitzer prize winning story of one vibrant catholic community a struggle for holy ground results from thirty five interviews with participants in the 1989 consolidations of then parishes in chicago s englewood and two parishes from the san francisco consolidations after its 1989 earthquake it explores the roles of ritual and pastoral care in this sometimes highly conflicted situation through the lens of trauma and reconciliation it proposes a series of new rites group reconciliation atonement lament leave taking memorial and inauguration based on the experience of people most impacted by parish restructurings
